COUNTY BANS ADVANCE OF GAS TAXES

None of the county's 44 cities will be permitted to draw upon the county for advances on their share of gas tax monies hereafter, according to a resolution adopted by the board of super-visors Tuesday.

Many cities have made a prac-tice of filing requests for their share of the money allotted by the state immediately after the beginning of the fiscal year and the board usually has granted such requests, especially when such pleas are backed by the asser-tion that the funds are needed for street repair work for the rainy season sets in.

Following this practice is one reason that the county has been forced to register some $300,000 in warrants, drawing interest at the rate of five percent a year, the supervisors declared. These warrants are costing the county taxpayers about $1,000 a month in interest charges, because of favors granted the cities.

Injury Causes Winking. Teacher Awarded $7,500.
LONDON (U.P.)—Emily Moun-ter, 29, blonde and attractive young London school teacher, was awarded $7,500 for a wink.

She sued for damages in a motoring accident, explaining that this resulted in permanent inju-ry of a nerve which gave her an embarrassing and uncontrollable wink.
"A school teacher must be dignified," she said. "You just can't go around winking at strange people. Now I can't control my eye and I wink at most em-barrassing times."

Players' Subsidy Referred to C. C.

Expenses, totaling $70, for the first production of the newly-organized Torrance Community Players were requested of the city council Tuesday night by President James R. Wilkes. Councilman James Hitchcock moved that the request be allowed but when Councilman George V. Pow-ell queried: "How are you going to do it?" the Players' applica-tion was referred to the Cham-ber of Commerce for recom-mendation.
